

Chapter 2

The Photon Belt

Washta and two other Sirian Council members would now like to discuss an incredible physical as well as spiritual event that is presently⁽¹⁾ approaching Earth. (Washta is a galactic presence who is in training as a new Sirian ascended master. When he completes this book project, Washta will be promoted to a fully-fledged ascended master.) He is joined in this presentation by Aumtron and Teletron—Sirian experts on science and history—but throughout the book Washta will be the only Council speaker.

We are here to share the fact that your solar system is presently poised to enter a vast region of light called the photon belt, sometime during a period between March of 1995 and December of 1996. This photon belt—a huge mass of light—will be the vehicle for your restoration to full consciousness and for the complete transformation of your DNA and chakra systems. These unbelievable changes will forever alter, not only yourselves, but also your planet and your solar system. This is because the photon belt will move your solar system into a higher dimension (from the 3rd to the 5th), allowing your planet, within the solar system, to move to a new position in space closer to the Sirius star system. At this point you may be asking: “What is this photon belt? Why haven’t I heard about it before? If it’s this important, why aren’t our scientists discussing it?”

The photon belt, a huge torroidal shaped object composed of photon light particles, was first discovered by your scientists in 1961 near the vicinity of the Pleiades, by satellite instrumentation. Throughout this book we usually speak of your Earth entering the photon belt—and sometimes, of the photon belt moving toward Earth. The reality is that your solar system and the photon belt are moving toward each other.

For those who do not know what a photon light particle is, you should realize that it is the result of a collision between an anti-electron (a positron) and an electron. This split-second collision causes the two particles to destroy each other. The resulting mass of this collision is completely converted into energy that registers as photons or light particles. In the first quarter of this century, an English physicist, Paul Derac, postulated that for every single particle a similar anti-particle should exist. In 1932, Dr. Carl David Anderson, who won a Nobel prize in 1936, discovered the first of these anti-particles—the positron or positive electron. By the 1950s, anti-protons as well as anti-neutrons had been discovered by your scientists.

The importance of these discoveries is not just that it proves Derac’s theories. More importantly, it allows a new and unprecedented form of energy to be discovered by Earth’s scientists. This energy that results from the collision between an anti-particle and a particle (for example, the collision of an anti-proton and a proton) is known as photon energy and will be the major source for all of your energy requirements in the future. In fact, the new energy age being established for this planet can be called the “Photon Energy Age.”

The photon belt was initially discovered when a series of studies on the Pleiades were begun in the early 18th Century by the famous British astronomer, Sir Edmund Halley. Halley is famous for the discovery of Comet Halley that seemed to prove Newton’s laws of planetary motion. Halley discovered that at least three of the stars in the Pleiadean star group are not in the same positions as recorded in classical times by various Greek astronomers. The difference in position had become so great by Halley’s time that it was impossible to state whether the Greeks or Halley were wrong. Halley therefore concluded that the Pleiades moved within a prescribed system of motion.

This concept was later proved correct one century later with some astute observations by Frederick Wilhelm Bessel. It was his discovery that all stars in the Pleiades had a proper motion of approximately 5.5 seconds of arc per century. Paul Otto Hesse also studied the Pleiades and discovered that at an absolute right angle (90 degrees) to the movement of the stars in the Pleiades, there was a photon belt shaped like a torroid or huge doughnut with a thickness of approximately 2,000 solar years or 759,864 billion miles. Since the results of the observations of Bessel and Hesse about the Pleiades are correct, your Earth is now completing a 24,000 to 26,000-year cycle with this photon belt.

As Earth is now going to enter this photon belt, you must know what this means to Earth's human civilization. Many of your astrologers as well as many of your scientists and historians believe that the next millennium marks the beginning of a new age for humankind. To Earth's astrologers, this new age is the Age of Aquarius, a time for vast changes in your science, technology and your consciousness. To your scientists and historians, it is an age of vast difficulties that your civilization's societal and political structures may not be able to handle. In any case, it may now appear to be either the prelude to a new wondrous age or the time of your extinction. The question remains—what part will the approaching photon belt play in these scenarios?

To answer these questions let us now look at the photon belt itself. The photon belt can be divided into three sections. You will first enter through what is called the null zone. This procedure will take roughly 5 to 6 days to complete including approximately 3 days of total darkness. Following this action, you will move into the main part of the belt itself and experience unending daylight (24 hours a day). This journey normally lasts around 2,000 years and ends when your solar system exits at the other end of the belt by going through the null zone exit for the same 5 to 6 day period. (See Table 1: Your Human Experience in the Photon Belt.)

Table 1: Your Human Experience in the Photon Belt

Day1:	Day 2:	Day 3-4:	Day 5-6:
Enter null zone	Atmosphere compressed	Atmosphere dimly lit like dawn	Transition into a 24-hour daylight period.
Alter body type of all living things	everyone will feel bloated	Start photon effect	Exit null zone, enter main photon belt zone
Non-operation of any electrical device	Sun cools down	Photon energy devices are operable	Every living thing is invigorated
Total darkness	Earth climate cools "ice age"	Stars will reappear in sky	Earth climate warms

However, in this cycle, the Supreme Creator Force (God) has arranged for your solar system to enter an interdimensional rescue bubble that will thrust it out of the photon belt through the 5th dimension and into a position about three light years from the Sirius star system (at present Sirius is approximately 8.3 light years from Earth). This bubble will be reached around the years 2012-2013 AD. That period of approximately 17 years (1996-2013 AD) will mark the end of your 24-hour daylight experience and bring the return of an approximate 12-hour daylight/12-hour nighttime schedule.

As we have just stated, surrounding the photon belt there is a huge barrier called the null zone. If you could look at the null zone, you'd see it really contains a region of incredible energy compression. It is a place where magnetic fields are so tightly strung together that it's impossible for any type of 3rd-dimensional magnetic field to pass through it without being altered. This fact means that the magnetic field of the Earth and your Sun must be transformed into a new type of interdimensional magnetism. You should therefore expect a change in Earth's electrical, magnetic, and gravitational fields. Such a change is occurring right now.

Over the past few decades, the magnetic field of the Earth has been decreasing gradually to almost zero. Many Earth humans have used this phenomenon to prove that a major polar shift is going to occur by the end of this century. However, this council and the Sirian scientists of this council can assure you that a polar shift will not occur! This change in the Earth's magnetic field is a by-product of the pressure being put on your solar system by the photon belt.

When the photon belt is fully manifested, it will not allow any electrical device to function. Such a development will mean that neither batteries nor electrical circuits will operate when Earth is in the photon belt. You will require a new form of energy—photon energy—to operate your former and soon-to-be altered electrical devices.

Another major development that is expected to occur as you approach the null zone is an increase in pressure on the planet's atmosphere and upon its surface. This aspect is also beginning to happen as noted by the increase in seismic activities that stretch from the 1960s to the present time. Earth is presently in a period in which seismic activities across the planet have increased. The same thing can be said for volcanism. There has also been a dramatic change in your planetary weather patterns that put pressure on the traditional water cycle. Thus, the droughts in California, Sub-Saharan Africa (the Sahal), South Central India, and the northern part of Chile are examples of how the jet stream and the ocean's internal currents have been altered by this event. In addition, the opening of the ozone hole in the late 1970s and the early 1980s signals another critical change created in part by the approaching photon belt. More importantly, this coming event has also affected your solar system by deeply altering the sunspot cycle and even the overall surface temperatures on the Sun. Now let us look at the Sun and see what has been happening to it.

In 1987 and 1988 the Sirians switched the polarity of the subtle bodies of the Sun so that the photon belt could not in any way adversely affect your solar system. First, we switched the polarity of the solar subtle bodies by realigning them to the new grids being created by the Time Lords (The creator supervisory force of God that deals with the continual creation of this physical universe). This will allow Earth a safe entry into the photon belt. Secondly, our Galactic Federation scientists altered the timing of the sunspot cycle to more easily allow the Sun to adjust to its new subtle body realignment. In an effort to create solar harmony, they therefore produced a different kind of Sun. This new Sun responded with an increase in solar flare activity and with a general stellar cooling. By accomplishing this action, the vast pressures on your solar system have been alleviated. If this shift in interdimensional polarity had not been done, the Sun would have been destroyed by the null zone of the photon belt and Earth vaporized. Thus, as you near Earth's entry into the photon belt, you can be comforted by the fact that the Sun has been significantly changed and is now capable of successfully entering the photon belt.

There were two reasons why the Sun was adjusted and safely positioned so that it can go directly into the photon belt. First, the photon belt is an interdimensional event that requires that the Sun enter it in a properly phased position. (The Sun must be in a relatively low level of activity and able to easily adjust itself to the rapid changes that entering the photon belt will entail.)² Secondly, the Earth must be monitored and procedures put into place that will align the inter-dimensional energy bodies of your planet to the rapid degree of changes that will take place before and just after entering the null zone. The alterations that will allow this event to occur have been put into place through the use of an interdimensional hologram.

This interdimensional envelope of light was placed around your Sun so as to properly align the solar system with this new event (the photon belt), and to also use this hologram to successfully regulate your Earth's entry into the photon belt. The hologram will later be used to move your solar system into its new position near our star system (Sirius). Thus we needed to adjust the Sun's entry fields by enlarging your planet's hologram to include your Sun and solar system. This adjustment will allow a safe entry into both the photon belt and into your new position in this galaxy.

These procedures were accomplished through a number of very important processes which we would like to emphasize. First, the Sun's polarity was changed. Second, the Galactic Federation has put into position various atmospheric research ships and specially prepared survey teams who integrated their activities with the actions from the Earth's interdimensional hologram. Their sole purpose is to monitor the ozone hole and to make sure that it does not get too untenable for life on your planet. In addition, these ships and their teams are able to monitor and correct major Earth seismic and plate activities now going on as your planet and solar system approach and enter the photon belt's null zone.

Nevertheless, it is you on Earth who will be entering the photon belt and losing the electromagnetic fields when they are nullified. And as we have explained, this means that when you enter the photon belt you won't be able to utilize electrical equipment anymore. Therefore, you must begin to prepare for this major change in your lives as new forms of gravitational and electrical fields are established. What appears to you as a loss will actually be a benefit that allows photon energy fields to be altered at the subatomic level and become the basic energy drivers of your solar system. As all atoms and molecules are changed, you Earth humans will be vastly modified in your very nature. You will become something quite different—excitingly improved—from what you presently are.

Therefore, let's go over the entire scenario of the photon belt experience and get an idea of what is about to happen. As mentioned, it will likely occur sometime between March of 1995 and December of 1996. Your planet will experience a great field of darkness as it approaches the null zone and your solar system becomes immersed in the zone. Suddenly, the twilight level of darkness will be replaced by complete darkness. It will be as though the entire planet has been thrown into an incredibly huge closet and the door closed behind you. The Sun will have disappeared from view and you will be unable to see stars in the pitch black sky. Day will have suddenly turned to night as the null zone's compression of solar and stellar light will blot out the Sun and even the stars. (Return to Table 1: Your Human Experience in the Photon Belt.)

You will know by the total darkness that you have now entered the null zone and begun the transformation process. As you begin to accept the shock of this utter darkness, you will find that something else has happened. Not only are you in the dark but none of your electrical devices will work anymore. Once the pumps quit and the water tanks are empty, water will not run and toilets will not flush. Lights cannot be turned on. Cars will not start. Hence, you are now in a whole new world. Despite these incredible difficulties, something has happened to your bodies, something wonderful.

When the collapse of the planet's electrical and magnetic fields occurs, it will also allow all atoms on Earth to be changed. The atoms in your body will be modified to form a new body—a body that is semietheric—and the veil of consciousness around you will be removed. You will no longer be living in the limited 3rd-dimensional reality. You will now be human beings living in the reality of the galactic light. You will now have physical and psychic gifts that you were meant to have ever since the time you humans first left the Lyran constellation to spread your knowledge and guardianship throughout this galaxy. You will have begun the process of “coming home” to the 5th dimension.

When the atmosphere begins to compress by the second day, you will experience the sensation of being compacted by the pressures from the null zone on Earth's gravitational field and you will feel bloated. This bloating will only last for about two days, however.

As your atmosphere is compressed and all materials become denser, the big danger will be from nuclear materials since there is the possibility for either nuclear chain-reactions or huge and deadly radioactive explosions of fissionable materials. This compression of nuclear energy could possibly cause massive fire storms in addition to explosions around the planet, or nuclear chain reactions. Therefore, to avoid these dangers, the Galactic Federation will allow a special landing of technical ships and personnel so that these potential nuclear dangers can be alleviated.

The next change that you will feel is coldness caused by the complete absence of the Sun. (This temperature drop will be profound—like an Ice Age type of cold.) This will occur because the Sun will be undergoing a change in its interdimensional polarity which will prevent the Sun's heat from reaching planet Earth's surface.

By the third day of change, however, you will begin to see a dawn-like glimmer surrounding your planet. You will then have the beginnings of the "photon effect." This photon effect is very important because it will allow you to have a new energy source. This new energy source will permit the end of your planet's fossil fuel dependency. It will also allow the capability for space travel since photon drive technology is the power system for all starships operated by the Galactic Federation. By the third and fourth day, then, you will have reached the time for your first introduction to photon energy, weak though it may be.

As the fourth day quickly draws to an end and the fifth day now begins, the climate will begin to warm and bright light will return. The photon effect which began toward the end of the third day will now be in full effect. You will now be able to use photon-beam power equipment. Every living thing will now be invigorated by the photons streaming in from the main part of the photon belt. You will have entered a new age with a new body. You will now be ready for the next phase in which your psychic abilities will be heightened by the photon effect. These photon energies will not only provide your bodies with maximum efficiency of energy use, but they will also be used for energizing your homes and your industries. You will have entered the photon age! Space travel will now become quite simple and a preferred mode of transportation.

Once you begin living in the photon belt you will be in a fully-realized space age. With the power provided by photon beam energy, the stars and other planets will soon seem to be as near as a trip across town. With this new energy, it will be as easy to travel to Sirius, or any other nearby star, as it is now to travel from California to New York. In addition, you will now have in your midst those you have long called the extraterrestrials who are your elder brothers and sisters and your counselors and guides during this transitional period.

The return of your space family, then, marks an important change in Earth's spatial relationship to your universe. The Time Lords who control this particular entry into the belt will cause your planet to have both a shift in consciousness and physical relationship and also a shift into a higher dimension.

This shifting from a largely 3rd-dimensional world to a 5th-dimensional world is an enormous gift, because as a result of this change, you will be removed from Pleiadean control and situated under Sirian influences. This 5th-dimensional reality means that you will be nearer to Sirius—that you can adopt the Lyran/Sirian culture and be under the protection of Sirius as you were in the time of Lemuria, some 25,000 years ago.

As you reflect upon your true Earth history, you will also learn from the Galactic Federation how to use this new spatial relationship that the 5th dimension will give you access to. Hence, your society approaches an almost indescribable Golden Age that various Earth religious prophecies have forecast over the past 2,000 years.

This coming Golden Age is one in which every Earth human will have the opportunity to become all that he or she was meant to be. It is a time when you, the people, will at last have the opportunity to understand your planet's true history and recover your lost full consciousness abilities. The approaching photon belt will mark the end of your present civilization as you know it. Moreover, with the photon belt's coming, the 10,000+ year period of limited consciousness and negative hierarchical government control (that has existed since the end of Atlantis) will conclude. At last, you are presently in the final period of a global Piscean age civilization that will lead you to truly wondrous times. (See Table 2: Galactic Influence on Earth.)

Table 2: Galactic Influence on Earth

Sirian Influence 2 million BC	Pleiadean Influence 25,000 BC	Joint Influence of Sirian and Pleiadean November 1992
Began in colonies of Hybornea and Lemuria. Ended when Atlantis destroyed Lemuria.	Began when Atlantis destroyed Lemuria and used the Pleiadean model for Earth human civilization.	Began as a result of the Pleiadean Star League decision to switch to the Lyran/Sirian culture.

The new wondrous times that you are about to enter will allow the reclamation of your fully consciousness potential. This fact is forecast in the biblical revelations, and it is an age when you will talk and walk with all who have lived on your planet. It is a time when you will be one with the Earth's Spiritual Hierarchy. It is also a time when you will return to work cooperatively with your planet's cetaceans (whales and dolphins) to be co-guardians of Earth, and eventually with your rehabilitated solar system, as well. You are also in the midst of discovering your true selves, and your true selves are capable of understanding and utilizing many psychic abilities. Yes, psychic abilities such as telepathy and telekinesis, clairaudience, clairvoyance, etc., are a former heritage of every human. You are also heir to new concepts about how you should empathetically relate to one another, and how these correct personal human relationships will determine constructive practices in governing your society in a peaceful and caring way. With these personal and societal changes will also come new technologies and a new science that can be safely known and applied. In effect, a whole new planet, a whole new galactic civilization and a whole new galactic human, are about to be born.

The Earth human that you have been is now ready for an incredible new era, even better than what you created in Lemuria. By aiding the Spiritual Hierarchy in this solar system, you will return to your soul focus as true guardians of all life on planet Earth as well as other planets in your solar system.

But there is another point that is also important for you to understand. You are on the verge of these great changes and new beginnings because of our future "first contact" landings on Earth. This Spiritual Hierarchy and Sirian-led first contact will enable your entire solar system to take its place in the Galactic Federation so you will become all that we have just described—a galactic civilization. Through wisdom and love applied here on Earth, you maybe sure that at sometime in the future you will be able to share your knowledge with other star systems—and so the sharing continues in the ever expanding power and presence of God. You are indeed on the verge of an amazing and wondrous time.

Now we are sure that you have many questions about what we Just covered. In the next chapter, Virginia asks Washta and his Sirian Council many questions about this Photon Belt material.
